

FRANCE'S CABINET CRISIS

Premier Dupuy's Minister Tender Their Resignations.

ASKED TO RECONSIDER

Want of Confidence by the Chamber of Deputies. The Interest Guarantee on Railway Shares. To Conduct Routine Business.

By Southern Associated Press.

PARIS, January 14.—In the Chamber of Deputies today M. Millerand, Socialist, in view of the resignation of M. Barthou, Minister of Public Works, raised an interpellation in regard to the guarantee of interest upon railway shares under the convention of 1883.

Millerand reproached the Ministry for their failure to support M. Barthou in demanding a limit to the guarantee and proposed that the Chamber appoint a commission of inquiry to decide whether M. Raynal formerly Minister of Public Works, should be prosecuted.

Premier Dupuy explained the position of the ministers and held that M. Barthou's resignation was needed.

The chamber then voted on the question of appointing a committee, and the proposal was carried 253 to 225.

M. Pourquery De Boisserin offered a resolution inviting the Government to rigorously defend the rights of the State in dealing with the Railway Commission. The Chamber voted 253 to 211 to give priority to the proposal of M. Pourquery De Boisserin over all other orders for the day.

Premier Dupuy declared that the Ministry would resign if the vote was insisted upon, whereupon the Chamber reversed its decision by a vote of 261 to 246.

M. Dupuy held that the chamber in giving priority to such a resolution showed a want of confidence in the ministry, hence the reversal of the Chamber's decision.

At 7:05 o'clock the Chamber, by a vote of 263 against 241, rejected a resolution offered by Mr. Treilard, approving the Government's conduct throughout in dealing with the railway conventions and also proving the Government's dissociation from the acts of M. Barthou.

Premier Dupuy then ascended the tribune and said:

"After this vote the Chamber must understand that the Cabinet cannot continue to participate in its deliberations."

The Ministers then left the chamber in Indian file and proceeded to the Palace of the Elysee and tendered their resignations to President Casimir Perier.

President Casimir Perier tried vainly to induce Premier Dupuy to reconsider his resignation. The Premier would not listen to any proposals looking to his retention of office, and, after a conference of forty minutes, his resignation was accepted. To-morrow Henry Brisson, president of the Chamber, will be summoned to the Elysee to consult with M. Casimir Perier.

The Official Journal will publish to-morrow a decree charging the members of the Dupuy cabinet to carry on the routine business of their departments until their successors shall be appointed.

In Olden Times.

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action; but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently cure habitual constipation, well informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system.

THE COCKADE CITY.

Many Matters to Interest Petersburgers in Norfolk.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE VIRGINIAN. PETERSBURG, January 14.—At a late hour last Saturday night the residence of Rev. A. S. Fristoe, pastor of the Second Baptist Church, on Wythe street, was broken into and robbed. The burglar got in through the kitchen window. After ransacking every room in the house with the exception of that occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Fristoe, the burglar made an effort to effect an entrance into the latter room, but when he turned the knob of the door he awoke Mrs. Fristoe, who in turn awoke her husband. Mr. Fristoe called out to know who was at the door, when the burglar ran down the stairs pursued by Mr. Fristoe. The burglar made his escape, but carried off with him Mr. Fristoe's overcoat, a fine gold headed cane, a gift from his wife, a pair of new shoes, a new umbrella, Mrs. Fristoe's pocketbook and other articles.

Mr. Fristoe thinks the burglar's intentions were to first rob the house and then to set fire to it, as in every room he made great wads of paper, which he lighted and scattered over the floors. Mr. Fristoe did not have a hat to wear to church yesterday morning and had to borrow one from a neighbor. This morning when he came downtown he was presented with a new hat and a handsome overcoat by friends.

Mr. Fristoe and Mrs. Fristoe will leave here to-morrow morning at 6 o'clock for Culpeper Court House, where Mr. Fristoe will spend a day or two. Mr. Fristoe will then go on to Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and other Northern cities. In these cities he will occupy the Baptist pulpits and solicit pecuniary contributions with which to complete his church here.

A telegram has been received here announcing the death of Mr. Howard Lunsford, which occurred in Texas last Saturday. Death resulted from consumption. Deceased was a son of the late Lewis Lunsford, of this place, who died about two years ago, and a nephew of Mr. Charles Lunsford, of this city, for whom he at one time clerked. He was a former resident of Norfolk.

The session of Tabb Street Presbyterian Church have decided that hereafter admission to marriages in that church will have to be by card of invitation. This has been found necessary by reason of bad behavior at marriages in the church in the past.

At St. Joseph's Catholic Church yesterday morning Rev. T. J. O'Farrell read to the congregation the recent letter from the Pope, with reference to the Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias and Sons of Temperance.

Mr. James T. Ashby left this morning for Lawrenceville, Boydton and Clarksville on a business trip.

Prof. A. P. Haupt, instructor in German here, has gone to Atlanta on a visit.

Miss Katie Percival, who has been visiting friends in Hampton, has returned home.

Mr. H. O. Williams, State Secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, spoke to a large audience at Tabb Street Presbyterian Church yesterday afternoon. His subject was "Recent Advances in Work for Young Men."

At the annual meeting of the Petersburg Benevolent Mechanics' Association, held to-night, James M. (Quickie) was elected president, T. Jefferson Clarke vice president and Wm. H. Baxter secretary and treasurer.

John A. Lee, president of the National Travelers' Protective Association, organized a post here to-night with twenty-five members. Charles C. Alley was elected president.

GORMAN VERSUS HILL.

A Royal War of Words On the Senate Floor.

THE QUESTION OF REVENUE.

The Urgent Deficiency Bill the Occasion of the Tilt Over Tariff, Finance and Party Treachery—Business of the House.

By Southern Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, January 14.—SENATE.—After the routine morning business the urgent deficiency bill was taken up, the question being on Mr. Hill's appeal from the decision ruling out the amendment offered by him, to authorize the United States Courts to hear and determine questions as to the constitutionality and validity of the income tax.

Mr. Stewart took the floor and concluded his speech begun Saturday—a free silver speech.

Mr. Gorman next addressed the Senate. The pending proposition was, he said, a simple and plain one. An appropriation bill was before the Senate providing for deficiencies, among them one to enable the Secretary of the Treasury to carry out the law for the collection of an income tax.

"But what the Senator from New York desires," Mr. Gorman continued, "is a provision, separate and distinct, exceptional in this case, that a provision that would enable any taxpayer to suspend the income tax; by injunction to reverse the rule to prevent the money coming into the Treasury until every question that might be raised by every unwilling taxpayer should be decided by the Supreme Court of the United States."

"You cannot eliminate" said he, "a single provision of the tariff law which brings revenue into the Treasury without substituting something in its place that will produce an equal amount of revenue."

"There never was a more hazardous undertaking than that of revising the tariff law at the time the Democratic party undertook it. The bill was a compromise measure, and no bill could have passed the Senate except by a compromise. As a whole the tariff law is the act of the Democratic party, and it is the best tariff law that has been on the statute books for forty years. The Senator from New York was not a party to that compromise. There is something in the atmosphere of Northern New York which, it seems to me, makes it impossible for a statesman from that section ever to compromise. (Laughter.)"

"If that Senator had had his way he would have had $500,000,000 of bonds to issue in order to pay the current expenses of the Government between that time and 1897."

"Can we," he asked, "reduce the expenditures? I answer no. The general expenses of the government will grow rather than diminish. In deed, the Secretary of the Treasury puts the expenditures for 1896 some millions higher than those for 1895, and he is quite right in that estimate."

Appealing directly to Republican Senators, Mr. Gorman said, "You come into power on the 4th of March next under better conditions than we did on the 4th of March, 1893. And I say to the Senator from Penna. (Mr. Quay) that I, for one, in any question that affects the finances of the Government or that is necessary to prevent the bankruptcy of the Treasury, or that is necessary to reform the currency, I will help you, and you ought to volunteer to help us now."

Mr. Hill replied to the speech of Mr. Gorman, who should, he said, have confined himself to a vindication of his own course, instead of trying to put other Senators in a false position. That Senator had been with him (Mr. Hill) in his fight against some of the provisions of the tariff bill.

That Senator had not been alone in his predictions of the failure of the revenue under the bill. He (Hill) had also made the like prediction. He had not voted for the Tariff bill, which he again alluded to, facetiously, as "the Gorman-Smith-Brice Wilson and Company's bill," and he declined to be held responsible by Mr. Gorman or anybody else for any of the evils which it had inflicted on the country.

He supposed that the men who voted for a bill should be held responsible for it—not those who voted against it. The Senator from Maryland, instead of complaining of the amendment offered to the urgent deficiency bill, should have been glad of the opportunity afforded him to vindicate himself. That was an opportunity which the Senator doubtless sought. He (Hill) did not propose now to enter into any discussion about the propriety of the income tax. The distinguished Senator from Maryland had been with him (as he supposed) when he made the attack on that provision of the bill, but on one day—after he (Hill) had been absent in the North, he returned to the Senate chamber and—presto, change, the Senator from Maryland was for the obnoxious, iniquitous income tax"—(sarcastically) "for a period of five years." (Laughter.)

Some remarks were made by Call, and the Senate after a short executive session adjourned at 5:30 p. m.

HOUSE.—At the beginning of the morning hour Mr. Hatch called up the bill making oleomargarine subject to the laws of the State or Territory into which it is imported.

The bill lost its favored place without having reached a vote on its merits. An order from the Committee on Rules will probably be necessary for the further consideration of the bill.

Weather Conditions and General Forecast.

The area of high barometric pressure and cold wave, which entered the Middle Atlantic States early Sunday morning, moved off over the ocean from the South Carolina coast Monday. The barometric pressure remains high in all districts east of the Mississippi river, though it has fallen decidedly in districts west of the river. There are two areas of low pressure, one over Dakota and the other over Southern Texas. The temperature has risen decidedly since yesterday morning in the Northwest and in the interior valleys.

The temperature will rise in all Atlantic and Gulf States to-day. Cloudy weather prevails in the Mississippi Valley from the Gulf to the Missouri Valley, and cloudy and threatening weather, with light snows, is prevailing in the Missouri and upper Mississippi Valleys. The weather conditions are generally unsettled throughout the West and indicate increasing cloudiness and warmer weather to-day, with probably rain to-night in the middle Atlantic States.

IS THE SHIP LOST AT SEA?

No News Received of the Ship Norris.

ED. HANEWINCKEL ON BOARD.

Long Overdue. Great Solicitude Felt for the Vessel's Safety. The Captain Sailed Disheartened.

Knowing Ones Still Have Hope.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE VIRGINIAN.

NEWPORT NEWS, January 14.—There is a great deal of anxiety being felt in this city among the friends of Edward Hanewinckel, of Richmond, who sailed from here on the American ship Norris, for Barcelona, Spain, October 13, as that vessel has not reached her destination.

The Norris cleared from the custom house on the 11th of October with sixteen hundred and forty tons of canal coal valued at $13,000.

This vessel was commanded by John A. Barston, of New Castle, Maine, and he had with him on this voyage his wife and young daughter. There was also aboard Edward Hanewinckel, of Richmond, who was accompanied by Dr. John P. Hubbard, Jr., of Philadelphia. The former gentleman who has been in very delicate health for some months, took this trip by the advice of his physician, who thought a long sea voyage would be beneficial to him.

Captain Barston informed many inquirers here that with fair wind he should reach Barcelona in seven weeks. Nothing whatever has been heard from the ship, and it is generally believed among shipping circles that the Norris, with all on board, have been lost.

Several captains arriving at this port during the past few days state that two or three ships have been reported on fire in about the same latitude that the Norris should have been in about that time. Others say that her passengers and crew might have been rescued by some vessel bound for Australia. In this latter event it may yet be weeks before anything definite will be heard.

The Norris was a very pretty craft, and her interior was quite handsomely fitted up. The Captain, though a jovial good fellow, left here with a heavy heart, as one of his men fell overboard just as he was about to sail, and was drowned. The sailor was a Japanese and was held in high esteem by his Captain. Although the chances are against her even being heard from, many knowing ones yet think that she will turn up all right eventually.
